Full-service provider for mouldmaking

With more than 100,000 products from a single source, we are the full-service provider for modern mouldmaking. The modular structured range of standard mould units is coordinated perfectly to the customer's needs and enables you to achieve sustainable competitiveness. One of our basic principles as a reliable partner for standard mould units is to supply you not with as much as possible, but only with as much as you really need. To make the design of high-quality moulds as easy as possible, we supply the right product and material combination for every application. Our balanced product portfolio, developed by experienced mouldmakers for mouldmakers, offers you plenty of advantages and added value. These include, in addition to many other digital services, our native CAD data with installation spaces for all common CAD systems. The high level of expertise of our excellently trained employees guarantees you an outstanding level of technical consulting in all areas.

Productivity through standardisation

Through the consistent use of standardised high-quality mould units, considerable time and cost savings can be achieved in mouldmaking along the entire value chain. The consistent standardisation has been shown to increase productivity and thus decisively improve competitiveness. Yet, the potential is not only in the components themselves, but also in the relevant processes connected with design, assembly, and use.
