Over 60 years of experience in fabrication innovation, product quality, customer service, and competitive price leadership!

PSC Industries has become one of the largest fabricators of non-metallic materials globally, with facilities spanning from North America to Asia. By investing in state of the art equipment, PSC is considered a pioneer in the fabricating industry. Our versatile products & capabilities serve the HVAC, Automotive, Appliance, Electronic and Medical Industries globally.

All divisions and facilities have management and resources to provide the support services of Quality, JIT Delivery, EDI Interchange, KanBan & ASN Shipping.

Whether your application requires large acoustical panels or small intricate parts with exacting tolerances, PSC has the flexible capabilities to fabricate polyurethane & polyethylene foam, fiberglass, rubber, films, foils, and adhesives to surpass expectations.

Transportation

As a key supplier to the fast paced transportation industry, PSC Industries services its customers from drawing board to production line. Utilizing our vast portfolio of products and manufacturing capabilities places PSC as a leader in bumper-to-bumper solutions.

With products ranging from sound absorbers, cushioning, seals, bump & rattle pads, and exterior shipping protection.

Electronic & Medical

PSC Industries has the capabilities and experience to custom fabricate materials designed for today's automated processes requiring "exact tolerances".

State of the art innovation for laser cutting, heat forming, and custom assembly, combined with high performance materials from key suppliers, gives PSC the leading edge in today's market.

HVAC & Appliance

To service our expansive HVAC & Appliance customers, both divisions, PSC Fabricating & Glasrite, work hand-in-hand to provide a complete line of thermal & acoustical panels, compressor covers and roll products made from both fiberglass & non-fiberglass materials, along with a complete line of high performance seal & gaskets and all optional pressure sensitive adhesive systems.

Both Glasrite & PSC share the prestigious Johns Manville Master

Fabricator Certification.

This gives us the support and R&D needed to provide robust solutions for our customers.

(Tame "compressor noise" with our lightweight high performance line of compressor covers.)
